FOUNDATION COURSE in PSYCHOANALYTIC THINKING

Embark with us on a transformative journey through our comprehensive course comprising of three distinct components; these can be taken concurrently or separately, as stand-alone.

🌟 Psychoanalytic Theory: Explore key concepts in psychoanalytic thinking through engaging discussions and readings of seminal papers. Enhance your capacity for reflection and critical thinking in a supportive and lively environment.

🤝 Case or Work Discussions: Present your work and delve into practical applications of psychoanalytic concepts. Learn from experience, understand relational difficulties, and address clinical challenges, integrating theoretical knowledge with real-world practice.

👶 Infant Observation: Deepen your understanding of infant development and inner world by directly observing infants in their home environment. Participate in small group discussions facilitated by experienced leaders, focusing on relationship patterns, early states of mind, and your own experience as an observer.

PREREQUISITES: Current New Zealand registration or equivalent overseas qualification, and professional training in the field. University/certified program students are also eligible. Applicants will undergo individual interviews to assess suitability and alignment with course objectives.

Application Form: https://form.jotform.com/233341162066044

📍 WHERE: Auckland (In-person) and remotely via video-conference.

📅 WHEN: Starting in March 2024, with fortnightly sessions on Thursday afternoon, for 1h 15min each, with a total of 16 seminars annually over two semesters.

💸 FEES:
- Each course: $1000 (Student: $750)
- Concession for two components: $1600 (Student: $1200)
- Concession for three components: $2500 (Student: $1875)

🎓 BENEFITS: The annual fee includes access to NZIPP Public Lectures, Cineforum, Workshops, and Conferences led by renowned psychoanalytic professionals from New Zealand and abroad.

For more information, contact Director of NZIPP Training: Dr. Gloriana Bartoli
Email: training@psychotherapy.co.nz